Bloomfield College seeks adjunct faculty to teach courses in network security, web programming, database management, and introduction to networks for the 2013-2014 academic year. Candidates must have at least a Master’s degree. Previous teaching experience is preferred. These classes will be taught on-campus in Bloomfield, NJ.

Please send cover letter, resume, and three references to Steve Kreutzer at steven_kreutzer@bloomfield.edu

Bloomfield College, founded in 1868, is an independent, four-year institution located 10 miles west of NYC in Essex County, NJ, and easily accessible by auto (Garden State Parkway, Exit 148/149) or public transportation from New Jersey or NYC (De Camp buses # 33 and 88).